to-day sent the following message to the Senate and House of Representatives :

In my inaugural message of December last, I gave reason to expect that when the full and accurate text of the correspondence relating to the steamer Virginius (which had been telegraphed in cipher) should be received, the papers concerning the capture of the vessel and execution of a part of its passeagers and crew and the restoration of the ship and survivors, would be transmisted to Congress. In compliance with expectations then beld out, I now transmit the papers and correspondence on the subject.

On the 28th of September, 1829, the Virginius was registered in the Custom-house at New 10th as the property of a chizen of the United States, he having first made the oath required by law that as the property of a citizen of the United States, he having hist made the oath required by law that he was the tries and only owner of the said vessel, and that there was no subject or citizen of any foreign province or state, derectly or mulrecily, by way of trust, conditience or othe rwise, interested therein. Having complied with the requisites of the statutes in that behalf, she cleared in the usual way for the port of Curacoa, and on or about the fourth of October, 18 0, sailed for that port. It is not disputed that she made the voyage according to her clearance, nor that, from the day to this, she has not returned within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States. It is also understood that she preserved her American papers, and that when within foreign ports she made a practice of putting forth a claim to American oationality, which was recognized by the authorities at such ports. When, therefore, she left the port of Kingston in October last, under the flag of the United States, she would appear to have had, as against all powers except the United States, the right to fly that flag, and to claim its protection as enjoyed by all regularly docurnented vessels, registered as part of our commercial marine. No state of war existed conferring upon maritime powers the right to molest and retain marine. No state of war existed conferring upon maritime powers the right to molest and retain upon the high seas a documented vessel, and it cannot be pretended that the Virginius had placed herself beyond the pale of law by acts of piracy against the human race. If her papers were irregular or frauditient, the offense was one a ainst the laws of the United States, justifiable only in their tribunds. THE RECLAMATION.

When, therefore, it became known that the Virginus had been captured on the high seas by a Spanish man-of-war; that the American flag had Spanish man-of-war; that the American flag had been bauled down by the captors; that the vessel had been carried to a Spanish port, and that Spanish tribunals were taking jurisdiction over the persons of those found on her, and exercising that jurisdiction upon American citizens, not only in violation of international law, but in contravention of the provisions of the treaty of 179. I directed a demand to be made upon Spain for the restoration of the vessel and the return of the survivors to the protection of the United States; for a salute to the flag and for the punishment of the offending parties. ment of the offending parties.

THE PROTOCOL The principles on which these demands rested could not be seriously questioned; but it was suggested by the Spanish Government that there were gested by the Spanish Government that there were grave doubts whether the Virginias was entitled to the character given her by her papers, and that therefore it might be proper for the United States, after the surrender of the vessel and survivors, to dispense with a salute to the flag, should such facts be established to their satisfaction. This seemed to be reasonable and just. I therefore assented to it on the assurance that Spain would then declare that no insult to the flag of the Laited States had been intended. Laited States had been intended. then declare that no insult to the flag of the United states had been intended. I also author-tized an agreement to be made that, should it be shown to the satisfaction of this Government that the Virginius was improperly bearing the flag, proceedings should be instituted in our courts for the punishment of an offense committed against the panishment of an offense committed against the United States. On her part, Spain undeed ok to proceed against those who had offended the severeignty of the United States or who had violated their treaty rights. The surrender of the visual and survivors to the juntself, tion of the tribunal of the United States was an admission of the principles on which our demand had been provided.

I therefore had no hesitation is agreeing to the arrangements finally made between the two Governments—an arrangement which was moderate and just and calculated to cement the good relations which have so long existed between Spain and the United States. Under this agreement the Virginius, with the American flag flying, was delivered to the Navy of the United States at Bania Honda, in the Island of Cuba, on the 16th ult. She was in an unseaworthy condition. On the passage to New York she encountered one of the most tempestions of our winter storms. At the risk of their lives, the officers and crew placed in charge of her, attempted to and crew placed in charge of her, attempted to keep her affoat. Their efforts were unavailing and she sank off Cape Fear. The prisoners who survived the massacre were surrendered at san-tingo de Cuba on the 18th ult., and reached the port of New York in safety.

ACCOMPANYING DOCUMENTS.

The evidence submitted on the part of Spain to establish the fact that the Virginius at the time of establish the fact that the Virginius at the time of her capture was improperly bearing the ling of the United States is transmitted herewith to-gether with the opinion of the Attorney-General thereon, and a copy of the note of the Spanish Minister, expressing, on behalf of his Govern-ment, a disclaimer of any intent of indignity to the flag of the United States.

"Why should it be considered impolite or awkward to use the left hand?" Looking at the question apparently as if the answer is "one of them things that no fellow can find out," children are practieally taught that the left hand is the only thing in creation for which there is no use, There may be physiological reasons why man should have a natural tendency to give most use to their right hands, or the tendency may be only hereditary, but even though there are physiological reasons for holding pen, hammer, jack-plane or sword, there could be no sound objection to the use at will of either hand at all kinds of work. The advantage of having two hands equally skilled or trained is similar to that of having two strings to one's bow, for at any time the "other" may be the only one available. As to is the best remedy in the world for the following awkwardness, the man might just as well be considered awkward who can only use one hand with skill, let it be either the right or the left hand.

NEW YORK, 1873-4. WEEKLY, SEMI-WEEKLY, AND DAILY.

THE WEEKLY SUN is too widely known to require any extended recommendation; but the reasons which have already given it fifty thousand subscribers, and which will, we hope, give it many thousands more, are briefly as follows:

It is a first-rate newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, con-densed when unimportant, at full length when of moment and always presented in a clear, intelligible, and interesting manner.

It is a first-rate family paper, full of entertaining and instructive reading of every kind, but containing nothing that can offend the most delicate and scrupulous taste. It is a first-rate story paper. The best tales and romances of current literature are carefully selected and legibly printed in its pages.

It is a first-rate agricultural paper. The most fresh and instructive articles on agricultural topics regularly appear in this department.

It is an independent political paper, belonging to no party, and wearing no col. It fights for principle, and for the election of the best men to office. It especially devotes its energies to the exposure of the great corruptions that now weaken and disgrace our country, and threaten to undermine republican institutions altogether. It has no fear of knaves, and asks no favors from their supporters. It reports the fashions for the ladies, and the markets for the men, especially the cattle markets, to which it pays particular attention. Finally, it is the cheapest paper published. One dollar a year will secure it for any subscriber. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have THE WEEKLY SUN at this rate. Any one who sends a single dollar with get the paper for a year.
